Mix It Up Day at Lunch Tuesday, February 16th, 2010

On Tuesday, February 16th, 2010, students at CHIME Charter Middle School will participate in our 3rd Annual Mix It Up at Lunch Day to challenge the social boundaries in our school. This is a project designed to foster respect and understanding in our school community. It encourages students to question and cross social boundaries in our school by sitting with someone new for just one day.

Mix It Up Day at Lunch is an ideal way for students to get to know people they might not otherwise meet. It is a starting point for better understanding and unity among students, and a way for students to interact among the different grade levels. Students will be allowed to venture outside of their prospective lunch areas for this one day.

Our goal is to encourage students to cross group lines and meet new people, help foster school spirit and unity, raise awareness about social boundaries, help students make new friends, and make students feel more comfortable interacting with different kinds of people.

Enjoy Mix It Up at Lunch Day! If you need assistance meeting a new friend, please ask a paraprofessional or teacher! All teachers will be out on the yard that day. Remember, Mix It Up day is NOT a free dress day.
